LIBERAL ASSOCIATION RESOLUTION.

The following resolution concerning the Crow's Nest Pass railway, was passed at a recent meeting of the local liberal association.

Edmonton, Feb. 24, 1897.

At a meeting of the Edmonton liberal association, held to-day, it was unanimously resolved:

Whereas a projected line of railway through the Crow's Nest Pass to give the Kootenay district direct connection with the East, is now under consideration by the Dominion government, and the policy which may be adopted by them will importantly affect this district in time to come.

And whereas such a road is a necessity to Northern Alberta—affording the only inlet to the Kootenay by which a road competing with the Canadian Pacific railway can be secured for the transport of our agricultural products to our best—and only present market.

And whereas the Crow's Nest being the only pass through the Rocky Mountains south of the present C. P. R. route, it is of vital importance to this district that it should not fall into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, either by charter granted directly to them, or to some other company whose rights might be acquired by them, for in such event all hope of competition against their present monopoly (from which this district is greatly suffering in a way only competition can relieve) would be forever cut off.

And whereas the only way in which the advantages of the Crow's Nest Pass as a means of communication between the rich mining districts of British Columbia and the fertile plains of this great agricultural country can be secured for the benefit of the producer and the consumer alike, is for the government to build and operate a railroad through it:

Therefore it is resolved by this association that the construction of a railroad through the Crow's Nest Pass, is a necessity to this district if it is to advance and prosper as it should do, should be urged on the government; that they be further urged to undertake the building of the road as a national work and to operate the same when built; and that the government be respectfully reminded that, as it was greatly the hopes of obtaining relief from crushing monopoly that secured for them the confidence and support of the West in the late elections, any policy that does not tend to grant the relief sought for, cannot receive the support of this association—the question of cheap railroad rates and a market for our produce overshadowing all others in importance to this district.

JAS. GIBBONS,
President.
JAS. M. DOUGLAS,
Secretary.

THE DINGLEY BILL.

The 55th session of the United States congress was opened at Washington on the 15th inst.

President McKinley in his message reviewing the finances of the government for the last three years spoke as follows: "The total receipts for the three fiscal years ending June 30th, 1896, were insufficient by $137,811,729.46, to meet the total expenditure. Nor has this condition since improved. For the first half of the present fiscal year the receipts of the government, exclusive of postal revenues, were $157,507,603.76, and its expenditures, exclusive of postal services, $195,410,000.13, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $37,902,396.46. In January of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,316,994.05, and the expenditures exclusive of postal service, $30,269,389.29, a deficit of $5,952,395.24 for the month. In February of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,400,997.38 and expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $28,796,037.66, a deficit of $4,395,039.28, or a total deficiency of $186,061,580.74 for the three years and eight months ending March 1, 1897. Not only are we without a surplus in the treasury, but with an increase in the public debt there has been a corresponding increase in the annual interest charge from $22,894,833.20 in 1892, the lowest of any year since 1862, to $34,387,397.60 in 1896, or an increase of $11,493,414.40."

For the purpose of remedying these evils President McKinley said: "Congress should promptly correct the existing condition. Ample revenues must be supplied not only for the ordinary expenses of the government, but for the prompt payment of liberal pensions and the liquidation of the principal interest of the public debt."

In raising revenue, duties should be so levied upon foreign products as to preserve the home market, so far as possible, to our own producers; to relieve and encourage agriculture; to increase our domestic and foreign commerce; to aid and develop mining and building, and to render to labor in every field of useful occupation the liberal wages and adequate rewards to which skill and industry are justly entitled. The necessity of the passage of a tariff law which shall provide ample revenue need not be further urged. The demand of the hour is the prompt enactment of such a measure, and to this object I earnestly recommend that congress shall make every endeavor. Before other business is transacted, let us first provide sufficient revenue to faithfully administer the government without the contracting of further debt."

Though the message occupied the undivided attention of the senators and of the audience in the galleries, no demonstration followed its conclusion. "At quite a late hour in the session of the house to-day Chairman Dingley presented for reference to the committee on ways and means, of which it was well understood, he was again to be chairman, the tariff bill, upon which he and his republican associates have been engaged for many weeks. "The bill has two purposes, namely, to raise additional revenue and to encourage the industries of the United States. "On the basis of the importations of the last fiscal year the bill would increase the revenue about $112,000,000 among the several schedules, roughly as follows:

A—Chemicals, $3,500,000.
B—Crockery and glassware, $4,000,000.
C—Metals, $4,000,000.
D—Wood, $1,750,000.
E—Sugar, $11,750,000.
F—Tobacco, $7,000,000.
G—Agricultural, $6,300,000.
H—Liquors, $1,800,000.
I—Cottons, $1,700,000.
J—Fur, linen and hemp, $7,800.
K—Wool, $17,500,000.
L—Manufactures of wool, $27,000,000.
M—Silks, $1,500,000.
N—Pulp and paper, $58,000.
O—Sundries, $6,200,000.

"This estimate is on the supposition that the imports of each class of goods would be the same the next fiscal year as in the fiscal year ended last June.

"Undoubtedly any delay beyond the first of May in placing the bill on the statute book would result in a large loss of revenue."

The increase of revenue is secured by transferring a number of articles from the present free list to the dutiable list, by increasing the duty on woollens to compensate the manufacturer for the duty placed on wool, by raising the duty on sugar about 1/2 per cent in order to encourage the production of sugar in the Southern States, by increasing the duty on agricultural products affected by Canadian competition and especially by increasing duties on such luxuries as liquors, tobaccos, silks, laces, etc. Generally speaking the rates of duties proposed are between the rates of the tariff of 1890 and the tariff of 1894, such reduction of rates from the former law preserving the protecting principle, being made feasible by changed conditions.

NATIONAL SCHOOL QUESTION.

Taking a "Bird's eye view," of the above question as it stands to-day in Canada, may we not venture to suggest that there are reasons for solicitude. Is not our independence as a nation threatened? To be forewarned is to be forearmed. The thin end of the wedge is not only being quietly placed in position waiting for an opportunity to strike, but it is certainly being driven with all the force at the command of those who in heart are enemies to our constitution i. e. their loyalty to our national institutions is far from being of primary importance with them, hence the danger and necessity for an awakening to agitate in every corner of the Dominion this serious question. Is it not high time that those of our professedly religious leaders should cast to the winds their little pet hobbies of wanting part religious education in our schools and that as a nation we intend to put our foot down declaring with a firm purpose that we will have one national school sustained by the national purse and one only, and that if any section of the people want any religious training let them out of their own private purse pay for and sustain the same.

We should also enforce efficient education for this purpose. A standard should be laid down for private as well as public schools, and while there may be individual exceptional failures to attain the standard they would be commiserated, but in case of wholesale failures by any one private school then the government should interfere. This would mean that all schools, private as well as public, should be made accessible by the government inspector, and the examinations should be under the supervision of the government; for inefficiency in the education of the future people of Canada is a menace to its higher interests. We in this day hold the possibilities in our hands whether the future of Canada may be intellectually progressive and raise itself to the highest standard or whether it shall deteriorate. That this question as far as the hierarchy of the Romish church is concerned, is intended to be fought with stubbornness, is very plain, but that is a potent reason why we, who are interested in the nation's welfare and future greatness, should about in firmness in proportion to that same stubbornness, and the sooner the nation, through her government, shows a determined purpose to settle this matter by establishing national schools free from all or any religious education the better will it be for the peace and progress of the nation. We venture further to say that if the country heartily looks after the intellectual development of those who are to constitute the future of our country, any church founded upon truth and right has nothing to fear. It seems high time that we had Canada for Canadians simply, and not for Roman Catholics or Protestants. Let the churches fight out their own religious questions amongst themselves.

D. EVANS.

INTIMIDATING ELECTORS.

"A Catholic" writing to the Winnipeg Tribune regarding the rumor that Archbishop Langevin in his sermon at St. Norbert last Sunday made the statement to the effect that all those who voted for Mr. Bertrand at the last election held in the electoral division of St. Boniface would be refused burial in consecrated ground should they die in their present state, says it is not only a rumor, but it is a positive fact that his grace did express himself in the sense as stated. He said further that all those who voted against his instructions would have to go to confession to him. Some electors went to confession since the election. The first question asked by the priest was:—

"Whom did you vote for at the last election?"

"I voted for Mr. Bertrand," answered the penitent.

"Then," said the priest, "you will have to go to the Archbishop; I can do nothing for you."

The elector did go to his grace, and judge of his surprise when he was asked to sign a printed document acknowledging his guilt in having voted for Bertrand and promising in future to vote according to the bishop's instructions. Others were told beforehand by the priest that they would have to sign a certain document, and turned back from confession.

"Catholic" continues: "Is it not high time that the law should provide for the punishment of such a monstrous proceeding? Why should not our legislature here enact a law to provide for a fine and imprisonment of any clergyman who attempts to intimidate and does intimidate any elector? Is it not the duty of the government to provide against the undue interference with the franchise of the electors? The election of St. Boniface is to be protested and Mr. Laurzon will be unsated for the undue influence of the Catholic clergy, but what will it signify to the clergy? You can see that they are already preparing for another contest by intimidating the electors. We have the evil staring us in the face. Let us apply the suggested stringent remedy that the state alone can provide, and then let them try it."

GENERAL NEWS.

The jury in the Clark ballot box stuffing case, disagreed and were discharged. Clark has given bonds to appear at the next assizes.

Calgary Herald: Mr. Harry Abbott, who has occupied the position of general superintendent of the Pacific division of the Canadian Pacific railway since the line was built to the coast, has resigned.

A London cable to the Toronto Star states: In regard to the reported uncertainty in Canada as to whether the invitation to send Canadian representative to the Queen's diamond jubilee, applies only to officers or to officers and men, the Colonial office announces today that it includes both. It is left to the Canadian authorities to select the detachment of troops.

Fuller accounts of the punitive expedition against Benin, are at hand. The British force, numbering some 360 men, had an eight hours fight before Benin was captured, and in the fracas they lost four men killed and had twenty wounded.

The report states: The whole town reeks of human blood, and the bodies of many sacrificed and crucified human beings have been found about the place. This afternoon the forces have been occupied in the destruction of "crucifixion trees" and "Ju-ju houses," thereby breaking the power of the fetish priests.

A San Francisco despatch says: Corbett is greatly subdued after the fight and there is no doubt but he is terribly put out over his defeat. The superiority which he has been wont to assume is gone.

To a press representative he said: "My doctor examined me again this morning, and although he said to be careful for a while, still, like myself, he is convinced that I am not seriously hurt. I have no plans for my immediate future. The shows I had arranged to hold have been cancelled, and I think I shall rest for a while. Then I will do my best to get Fitz to allow me a chance to prove to the world that I was whipped by an accidental blow."

The London Times correspondent at Athens says: "Popular opinion in Greece, demands an early declaration of war with Turkey. The idea is that Europe would then be compelled to adopt a neutral attitude. It is argued that the Greek fleet could conquer the islands in the Aegean, including Samos while the Greek army, assisted by insurgent bands, could rapidly overrun Macedonia. It is suggested that as the conditions in Crete do not give sufficient pretext for a declaration of war a more valid excuse can be found in the refusal of Turkey to concede to Greece the territory assigned her at the Berlin conference, which decision the powers failed to enforce and Greece, despite her protests, was obliged to accept the present frontier under the convention ratified at Constantinople in August, 1881. It must be admitted, says the Times correspondent, that Greece has legitimate ground of complaint against the great powers and Turkey, and it is thought by good judges of Greek policy at Athens, that if the boundary fixed by the conference were conceded Greece would willingly abandon her pretensions in Crete. At present, however, the powers do not seem in a mood to negotiate."

A correspondent to the Calgary Herald, who describes himself as an admirer of Mr. Oliver and one thoroughly in accord with his political views; who voted for him last June and is not on the look out for any government job, has the following very reasonable remarks to make: Mr. Oliver has paid Calgary several visits since his election and there are many more like myself would be glad to shake his hand, and have a chat with him on matters which deeply interest his constituents in Alberta as well as the country generally. I regret, however, that at two or three local wirepullers have taken charge of our member whenever he comes to town, and will only allow the people to approach him through their mediation. We used to think the old system when conservative ministers were hedged round by government officials had enough, but the present system is not a bit better. Mr. Oliver is too much of a gentleman to give offence to anybody much less a friend, but I think in fairness to him, our local bosses should let him alone when he visits Calgary—unless he desires to see them. The position of a member of parliament, who is not allowed to be the master of his own movements, must be anything but pleasant. I hope that this intimation will be sufficient, so that I need not mention any names.

SUPREME COURT.

The suit of McLeod vs. Wilson, which was started on Thursday last and has been tediously dragging its weary way for six days and a half, came to a close to-day at 1.30. Judgment was reserved. Beck, Q. C., for plaintiff, S. S. Taylor, Q. C., for defendant.

Allan vs. Clark was the next case on the docket. This is an action brought by Wm. Rae Allan, insurance agent of Winnipeg, to collect from the defendant, Jas. D. Clark, the sum of $367.00. The facts as stated by the plaintiff are that the defendant Clark went bondsman for one P. Daly in an insurance company of which Allan was the agent. Daly, it is alleged, misappropriated the monies of such company, whereupon the action was brought to recover the amount from said Clark, as bondsman. The defendant claims that the monies so claimed to be misappropriated were collected by Daly prior to Clark going on his bond and before any liability accrued to Clark. H. C. Taylor for plaintiff, J. C. F. Bown for defendant.

MAGISTRATES COURT.

At St. Albert on the 22nd, inst. Jules Marron was charged before G. W. Gairdner, J. P. with having stolen a watch, the property of J. Gouveau. Marron was committed for trial and brought in by the police on Tuesday.

Lampson's telegraphic reports state a great drop in all classes of furs, and until the market settles, sales will be very slow. Full details of Lampson's sales next issue when the complete report will be in.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Communicated.
The annual missionary service in the Methodist church last evening was attended by a crowded audience. Addresses were given by the Revs. J. Dyke B. D.; W. G. Blewett and the Indians from White Whale lake, Paul and Didymus. The latter delighted the audience with their earnest simple pathos as they sang in Cree "I am coming to the Cross." The Rev. J. Dyke spoke on the general missionary work of the church, and the great need of an increase in the funds of the society. Rev. Mr. Blewett referred to the great difficulties met with on the mission field. One of his bands of Indians at White Whale lake, numbering thirty families, was greatly hampered in its farming operations for want of suitable tools. They had only two plows, three harrows, and an old broken down mow, which ought to have been superannuated years ago, and a hay rake to match. If thirty white farmers had no better tools than those they would not do much better. But amid all the difficulties the Indians were plodding and industrious. With one not they had caught seven thousand fish to sustain life and provide other necessities. Paul and Didymus then addressed the meeting, Willie McDonald acting as interpreter. Paul said: "I am thankful to see this day. My father had not such opportunities," and he also said that the minister found him with a bad heart, but he pointed him to God who had brought him a good heart. The minister had taught him it was bad to drink whiskey and he never touched it. Bad to steal, he murder or do foolish things, and they honestly tried to avoid them. They lived in peace among themselves. When he was twenty-five years old he married a squaw, who had never scratched him, nor had he scratched her. Many years ago, minister John McDougall, of Melby, told him good words, he keeps them in heart yet, and will hold them as long as he has breath. He is thankful to the white people because God has brought him to see good; and he would like to shake hands with all his brothers."

Didymus spoke as follows: My friends I speak too. I do not know very much, but I am glad to see this day of good. I am thankful to have been taught there is a God. I was blindfolded like a man sleeping under a blanket; but our eyes were uncovered and the minister taught us "there is a good road follow it." He had not much to say, but he said this with a good heart and wanted to go on doing better all the time. When the offering was taken and counted it amounted to nearly $40 which was donated to the funds of the missionary society. Rev. W. G. Blewett, Paul and Didymus, returned to the mission at White Whale lake on Monday last.

A London despatch of the 20th, says: Mgr. Merry del Val the papal delegate who sails for Canada to-day to try and settle the Manitoba school question is a distinguished looking gentleman, about 32 years of age and of courtly manners. He is evidently a man who will hear all sides and when he reaches a decision he will put his feet down in the firmest manner. Mgr. del Val goes to Canada in complete touch with the Pope's idea. In conversation yesterday Mgr. del Val said: "I have had a great mass of documents and information placed at my disposal to which I am giving the closest attention, in the sincere hope that my work will contribute to the good of Canada. My plans on arriving in New York are undecided upon. I shall probably go first to Montreal, and shall of course visit Manitoba. The expenses of my mission are not borne as stated in some newspapers by any of the parties to the controversy. They are borne absolutely by the Pope, who is very particular in such matters."

ENUMERATORS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the enumerators and returning officers of the late general election, held on Tuesday, it was decided to send to Ottawa a letter to be laid before the government, containing their grievances, and stating that they consider themselves unjustly treated by the auditor-general in the matter of their election accounts, and demanding from the government the balance of their accounts as passed and the payment of such accounts as furnished by them to the returning officer, Mr. G. A. Gouin; and further stating that they do not consider themselves as employees of Mr. Gouin, but of the government, and are fully determined to press their claims for full payment of their accounts. The letter, which is at Mr. Jellett's office, is being signed by all those interested.

FAREWELL TO ALBANI.

Toronto Evening News, Feb. 25th.
The sensation of the month in Toronto and Winnipeg has been the concert of the Albani Company. This favorite prima donna simply took Manitoba by storm and Winnipeg could not restrain their enthusiasm at the concert given in that city, making the stay of Albani there longer than first planned. The Massey hall ballad concert in Toronto was a tremendous success. Madame Albani will close her Canadian tour with her high position as a vocalist fixed more deeply than ever in the hearts of the people of Canada. And there will always be connected with the name of Albani that of Canada's premier and veteran piano manufacturer, Heintzman, and Heintzman & Co., whose instruments were used exclusively by the Albani company in their Canadian tour. Fifty years of pianomaking has placed Heintzman & Co. at the top in piano manufacturing.

J. T. Blewett is agent for this piano for Edmonton and district.
